

A vibrant graphic for a kite festival. The background is a light teal color with several white, stylized clouds. A large, bright yellow sun with orange rays is positioned at the bottom center. A kite with orange and yellow panels is flying in the upper right. A long, orange string with yellow and orange bows loops across the scene. The text "One Sky, One World" is written in a black, sans-serif font above the main title "Kite Festival", which is in a larger, bold, black, sans-serif font.
