New Economic Development Initiative on the Ballot

On November 2, La Vista voters will be asked to give the Mayor and City Council authority to utilize a new economic development tool.

During its 2010 session, the Nebraska Legislature approved Legislative Bill 1018, which grants cities the authority to rebate up to 1.5 percent of the newly generated local sales tax that would be collected in a qualifying development.

The rebate is designed to help offset some of the construction and site costs incurred by the developer.

Projects qualifying under LB 1018 must be either major tourism developments or the redevelopment of an area. In addition, minimum project investment thresholds must be met, including an investment of at least $50 million for a new development and $10 million for a redevelopment project.

LB 1018 was initiated and fully supported by the United Cities of Sarpy County including, Bellevue, Gretna, Papillion, Springfield and La Vista. The authority granted to cities in the bill is similar to the LB 840 Economic Development program legislation used to attract the John Q. Hammons Embassy Suites/La Vista Conference Center/Marriott Courtyard project several years ago.

Mayor Douglas Kindig testified before the Legislature's Revenue Committee in support of the bill, which adds a new tool to the City's economic development toolbox.

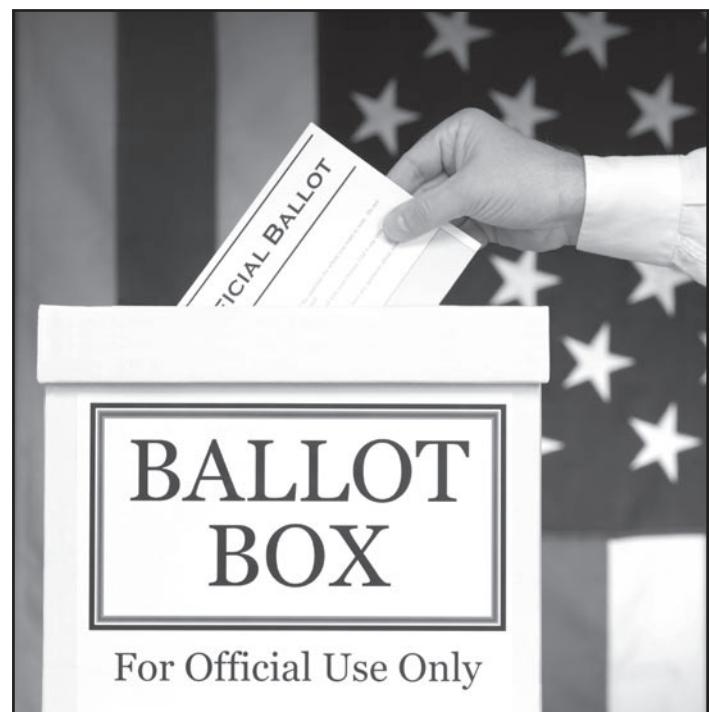

"This is historic legislation, because in the past incentives like this were not allowed for projects containing a retail component," said Mayor Kindig. "This is a significant opportunity that we cannot afford to pass up, because it will give us the ability to quickly respond to economic development opportunities."

The bill had the support of all five Sarpy County cities, which says a lot about the potential positive economic impact this could have on each entity, Mayor Kindig said.

Additionally, each member of the La Vista City Council has expressed their support for seeking the authority granted in LB 1018.

"I think this was a great win for the Sarpy Cities to get this through the Legislature. Once again it shows that we are getting ahead of the game in economic development during very tough economic times," said City Council President Tony Gowan.

The future growth of La Vista will be further aided by the use of LB 1018, said other council members.

"I think you need to have these types of incentive programs to bring large projects to your community," said Councilmember Mark Ellerbeck. "I believe this is something we need in this community and I support it fully."

This new economic development tool is a win-win for La Vista as only the new sales tax revenues generated by a project can be used to help fund that project for a period of 10 years. The maximum rebate period is 10 years.

Should voters approve this measure in November, the City of La Vista will have an important new economic development tool in its toolbox when approached by developers wanting to build projects that would have a significant economic benefit to the community.

La Vista will likely be one of the first Nebraska communities to ask its voters for this authority, which will once again put the City on the leading edge of economic development in the region.

The City will be sharing additional information with residents as well as participating in several public information sessions which will be publicized in the coming months.

A MINUTE WITH mayor kindig

Hopefully you have read the cover story of this issue of CityWise regarding La Vista's upcoming economic development ballot initiative.

The legislation contained in LB 1018, known as the Nebraska Advantage Transformational Tourism & Redevelopment Act (NATTR) is the result of a cooperative effort on the local level with all Sarpy County cities and on the state level with State Senators. I'd like to extend my personal appreciation to those involved in the crafting and eventual approval of this historic legislation.

Prior to the election in November, we want to provide you with the opportunity to ask questions and understand how this program would work.

Members of the City Council, citizen volunteers and I will be distributing information regarding the ballot initiative. There will also be numerous public information sessions where residents will have the opportunity to talk with elected officials and others about the benefits of this new economic development tool.

This is an important issue that will impact La Vista far into the future. I hope you will take the time to become informed and vote in November.

Enjoy what's left of the summer!

— Mayor Douglas Kindig

How Pot Holes Happen

When fall approaches, you may notice a strange looking orange trailer being pulled by a Public Works truck in your neighborhood.

This trailer contains a hot tar applicator which helps the Public Works Department try to keep moisture and dirt out of the cracks and joints in the pavements. If this is not done, the base is saturated with water and the pavement deflects (moves) under traffic, especially under heavy loads such as garbage trucks.

This slight movement in the pavement will create additional cracks, allowing more water to enter the base, which over time will cause large sections of our streets to fail. Keeping dirt and gravel out of the cracks and joints is important as pavement will expand and contract with seasonal temperature changes.

When temperatures rise, the pavement expands and starts to push against the gravel. Since the gravel is normally much harder than concrete, something needs to give, which is usually the concrete.

This effect also takes place all winter long with the use of de-icing chemicals, such as salt, when they are applied to the pavement to melt the snow and ice. This eventually will lead to a new pothole being formed.

The melting of the snow and ice has the same effect as the normal seasonal temperature changes but it happens much more frequently during the winter months. That is why we experience considerably more potholes in the winter than we do during the other seasons.

Public Works crews use a high volume, high pressure pull behind air compressor with a wand attached to the compressor hose to blow the cracks and joints clean and to dry them.

After a short amount of cooling and cure time, the street is ready for vehicular, as well as pedestrian, traffic with minimal risk to the tar sticking to tires or shoes.

Crack sealing does not improve the pavement rideability, but as city streets continue to get older, crack sealing adds many more years of life to our streets before complete rehabilitation is necessary.

MEET YOUR NEW NEIGHBORHOOD POLICE OFFICERS

Officers Eric Rothe and Nick Jeanette were sworn in as La Vista Police Officers on May 4, 2010. Officer Rothe spent 5 years with the Kansas City (MO) Police Department prior to coming to La Vista. Officer Jeanette spent the last 9 years with the Sarpy County Sheriff's Department. CODE ENFORCEMENT HAS A NEW HOME

For complaints about tall grass, un-shoveled snow and other nuisance-related inquiries, the place to call is no longer La Vista City Hall.

This spring the La Vista City Council approved the transfer of the Code Enforcement position from the Community Development Department to the Police Department, which offers a variety of positive changes for the City and residents.

Most of all, the Code Enforcement Officer is no longer tied to a normal 8 to 5 job schedule and is free to make contact when it is convenient for residents and/or property owners.

With the transfer of the Code Enforcement position, it's a good opportunity to take a look at some tips for keeping property nuisance-free.

- Take time to clean up and de-clutter the outside of your residence or business. If you leave "stuff" lying around the exterior of your home or business, you are probably violating one of our codes.
- Review the applicable La Vista Municipal Codes. If you don't know a code exists, it's hard to comply with its requirements. You can visit the library to review a hard copy of the code or log on to the City's Web site, www.cityoflavista.org.

- Take a look at the condition of motor vehicles parked on your property. The codes specifically state that any unregistered vehicle, located on private as well as public property, is a nuisance. In addition, the vehicle must be operable and intact. This means it is prohibited to have a vehicle on blocks in your driveway, awaiting repairs for weeks.
- Failure to comply with city codes may result in criminal vehicle impoundment, prosecution, fines, court costs and even jail time.

Please take a little time to learn and abide by city codes – a little effort and common sense will assure the high quality of life in La Vista is maintained.

For questions and answers, please contact the Code Enforcement Division of the La Vista Police Department at 331-1582.

An Update on the Rental Housing Inspection Program

The Rental Housing Inspection Program went into effect on January 1, 2010, and the City sent courtesy notices to landlords notifying them of the requirement to register their properties. To date, nearly 300 registrations have been received. As of June 15, the Building Inspectors have completed 126 inspections as of June 15th. Of those, about half needed corrections that require a follow up inspection. By the middle of August, 94 additional rental inspections are scheduled to be completed. The City estimates between 50 and 80 properties have not been registered, which will require further enforcement. During the inspections the most common deficiencies found are:

- 1. Smoke detectors missing or not operational.
- 2. Combustion air problems with furnaces, such as not enough space around the furnace.
- 3. Exposed wires, improper splicing, open ports in panels and electrical boxes.
- 4. Crawl space problems ranging from leaking sanitary lines, leaking supply lines, and foundations leaking.
- 5. Improper discharging of sump pits.

6. Excessive debris.

7. Mold and mildew due to a lack of ventilation or leaking plumbing.

8. Improper dryer venting, including venting into a crawl space or attic.

9. Improper garage wiring.

10. Blocked exit paths and handrail issues.

The Building Inspectors are making every effort to work with the landlords and while many were initially opposed to the program, some have expressed a different opinion during the inspection process. They have stated they appreciate that the inspector is willing to help explain how a problem can be remedied instead of just "get it corrected as soon as possible". Owners have been shown problems they were completely unaware of and were thankful for the exchange of information about the requirements of the building codes.

For more information about a safe home, call City Hall, 331-4343. Ask for the Rental Housing Inspection Program checklist, or visit the City's Web site, <http://www.cityoflavista.org> click on Departments, Community Development and Permits/Licensing/Forms.
